PROTEST TAX LEVY AGAINST AMERICANS IN SOUTH AMERICA

U. S. Citizens and Firms Ask Amendment to Income and Profit Tax Laws

BUENOS AIRES.—Protest against the assessment of the United States income and excess profits tax upon American citizens and business firms residing and operating abroad is voiced in a resolution adopted by the chamber of commerce of the United States in Argentina and sent to the government at Washington. Amendment to the law is asked on the ground that it is proving an obstacle to the development and extension of United States foreign commerce.

Collection of the tax not only increases the heavy expenses of Americans residing abroad, but constitutes a serious handicap to them in trade competition, the resolution states, since no such tax is collected from the nationals of other countries. It is further pointed out that American citizens and business houses must pay heavy taxes levied by the country in which they are located and are thus taxed twice without representation either in the government of that country or their own.

Already the assessment of the excess profits and income tax has caused many American interests operating abroad to change their identity by organizing as concerns of the countries where they conduct business. It is asserted, "thus causing a serious loss to the prestige of American commerce in foreign markets." It is contended that when the relative high cost of living and other disadvantages incurred by foreign residence are considered, incomes abroad that appear large are not really so in comparison with those paid in the United States, and the collection of the tax upon them tends to make foreign residence and business operation financially disadvantageous.

Flat Feet Treatment Successful
War experiences have changed our views about flat feet. It was at one time assumed that individuals so afflicted were destined to lead sedentary lives and that they were disqualified from partaking in vocations requiring constant use of the feet, such as military service. This erroneous idea is still universal in Europe and to a large extent in America. It is in a weak foot that the bones of the arch drops to the ground, the muscles and ligaments being so weak and flabby that they cannot hold up the arch bones. After a series of treatments, in the most chronic cases, the prolapsed bones will gradually raise until they reach their normal height.

The Fall Shoes Are Better Styles

by Geo. Rice

Fall shoes for men are showing more variety this season than any time since the war time regulations for conservation put a halt to the free hand of shoe designers.

However, this variety is not manifested in the variety of combinations of uppers and soles as was in vogue when the restraining edicts were placed.

There are very few of the two-tone effects shown but various are the shades in solid tone finishes, and fanciful trimming designs, and perforations are widely shown.

The Brogue shoe—a heavily ornamented style, will be in vogue this fall and winter as it was this spring.

In fact, the heavy appearance of this shoe seems to fit more appropriately into the scheme of things for winter than for the milder months. It's a sensible as well as pleasingly ornate style and a great relief from the rather subdued styling we have had to adopt in our shoes in recent seasons.

Then, too, there are other shoes that ingratiate themselves because of their more simple, and possibly more refined smartness.

These shoes are of the English and swing lasts in very graceful shapings. Such shoes show a tendency toward more pointed toes. There seems to be no half way compromise in the styling of toes this season. They are either of the broad blunt effects as we see on the Brogue shoes or else the pointed toe styles. Neither Bull Dog effects or the medium rounded toe assert themselves very boldly.

Brown is the outstanding color and these in the russet, mahogany and cordovan shades rather than the very dark brown or very light tans. Black, dull finish and gun metal finishes come next in line.

Some blucher styles are shown but the laced effects are the most fashionable and will be the most popular. Few button shoes are shown for men and those that are shown are principally for dress wear in the patent leather finish.

The chief leathers employed are calf, Russia, cordovan and vic.

Very dressy men are showing increasing favor for spats and naturally this rogue shows greater strength in the fall than in the spring.

These spats are mostly in the lighter shades of fawn, champagne, mode, beige and pearl. In the darker tones there are browns, oxford and wine color.

Once Was Enough

"Robert," said the manager to the office boy, "how is it that you are always the last to arrive in the morning and the first to go away in the evening."

"Well, sir," responded the cheery youth, "you wouldn't want me to be late twice a day, would you?"—Boston Transcript.

ARGENTINE SCORES BUSINESS METHODS OF U. S. CONCERNS

Failure to Place Enough Postage on Letters is Criticized

BUENOS AIRES.—Failure of the majority of North American manufacturing and exporting concerns to place sufficient postage on the letters they send to Argentina is one of the details which is tending to cause an unfavorable opinion here of American business methods, says the bulletin of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Argentina.

The bulletin is convinced that at least 25 per cent of the letters sent here from the United States bear a two-cent stamp instead of the five-cent postage required. This means that the recipients, not only are obliged to pay the additional three cents but a fine imposed by the Argentine postoffice regulations equivalent to the deficiency, or a total of six cents. Many circulars and selling letters come with the two-cent stamp and "it may be readily understood how annoying it is to Argentine firms to have their correspondence treated in such a careless manner."

The bulletin also comments upon "the lack of even rudimentary knowledge of geography" shown by some American concerns in addressing letters.

LOVE THE LORD
"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep His charges, and His statutes, and His judgments, and His commandments, always.—Deuteronomy 10:12"

"THE RED HORSEMAN"
RECENTLY V. Blasco Ibañez, author of "The Four Horsemen of The Apocalypse", announced in a magazine article the appearance of "The Fifth Horseman", and declared that "the fifth horseman is red".
Ibañez has been studying European conditions, and his conclusion is that civilization must defeat bolshevism by a united effort, or suffer a world-wide visitation.

This writer, a keen student who enjoys intimate familiarity with European peoples and conditions affecting them, declares that nothing thus far attempted serves to check bolshevism because the methods used are national, whereas the appeal of bolshevism takes no account of races or boundaries, but is directed to a class whose problems are basically the same in all lands.

The progress of bolshevism in Italy, an allied country, has been observed with concern. We have felt the workings of bolshevist emissaries in this country. Their hand has been seen in Germany, where unrest makes special invitation. Prior to the first Polish offensive England was deeply concerned because of bolshevism's appearance in Persia and India. Dissatisfaction in Egypt bids for penetration there. The Turkish church has allied itself with the Russian bolsheviks. Moscow claims progress in France. Only in England and America, according to Lenine, is the movement lagging.

This week a semi-official dispatch from Moscow, carried in Japanese newspapers, announced the dispatch of new bolshevist agents in large numbers "to America, Japan, China and Asia". Their mission was "to bolshevise the world".

In this country the outlaw strike is frankly an instrument looking to proletarian ascendancy. Men who see no connection between the Wall street atrocity and Russian propaganda are blind. Forces in America which oppose the league of nations are standing in the way of the only agency through which unity of action can be secured for the intelligent defense of civilization against a menace both powerful and insidious. The "Red Horseman" gallops around the world. Discontent and ignorance conspire with ruthless ambition to speed him successfully upon his way. Mad adherents throw bombs, but the real red rider only talks. There are eager ears, and speech is free. The law can be by its hand on the murderer, but if it touch the red agitator it makes him a martyr. The men are going on, growing, and society is defenseless. With the nations unorganized, divided, they can be carried one at a time as they ripen for the plucking. That is why the bolshevistically inclined oppose the league of nations. Some of our American radicals know what they are doing, some don't. Evidently a great mass of conservatives who oppose the league don't know what they are doing, either.

If civilization is to continue its development by the gradual processes of education, uninterrupted by revolutionary adventures, it must have a strong league of Christian nations.

THE MORNING AFTER
A FAT pay envelope.
Much wine, women, and song.
Awful headache, rebellious stomach, general misery.
It is a bit from the social history of nations, as well as individuals and, usually, it is something to be heartily laughed at—by the other fellow.

The great war brought upon the sixty million people of Japan undreamed-of prosperity. New factories sprang up everywhere and the labor shortage was such that for the workman to demand was to get. Prices on exports flew sky high. Millionaires were created by the score. Everybody went to profiteering, the capitalistic classes, the middle classes and the labor classes having learned to "pass the buck", with some plus profit in the passing.
The men of money built and invested as if the rest of the world were dead for all time. The masses spent their money on the equivalents of autos, $7.00 silk stockings, $20 shoes, summer furs, diamonds, and so forth. There was a Ponzi on every street corner and a get-rich-quick concern in every block, with eager suckers so thick that things just boiled. Millions of people, injured by necessary thrift to feeling satisfied with the ordinary comforts of life, went mad over the chance to splurge in luxuries.

Next morning, or, rather, several months ago, there came upon Japan what's called "business depression". Stocks tumbled, the Jap dollar became emaciated, thousands of firms failed, many millionaires resorted to suicide, silk and cotton factories closed, steel works closed, mines closed. And winter will come upon millions of idle working people, in the cities alone.

When the mass purse is fat when the mass stomach is full, the government seems all right. The mass, freezing and starving, turns to revolution of government. The millions of Japan are going to be a very interesting study for Americans during the next six months.

THE WORLD'S BEST SELLER
NOT only is the Bible the world's best seller, but it has proven the deepest mine for research of any book in the world. Beyond the great truths and interpretations there are those curious folk whom one might be called, as a type. Old figures, that have searched out even the last letter in the grand total of words in The Book.

Take Dr. Horne, for instance. In his introduction to the study of the scriptures, he presents figures that occupied three years of his time to assemble. They are curious, perhaps, but of what value any reader may judge. Dr. Horne found that in the authorized version of the Bible there are sixty-six books, 1189 chapters, 41,173 verses, 773,746 words and—mark you—3,568,480 LETTERS. That includes the figures of both Old and New Testaments. Of what value? For along comes another fellow and says: "Doctor, you are wrong, for there are 3,586,489 letters. Who's right? Who's going to count 'em all over again! And in the fourteen books of the apocrypha there are 1,063,876 more letters.

But that isn't all the curious things these students have discovered. No, far from it.

Because they have found that the nineteenth chapter of Second Kings and the thirty-seventh chapter of Isaiah are alike; that the longest verse is the ninth verse of the eighth chapter of Esther; the shortest the thirty-fifth verse, eleventh chapter of St. John: "Jesus wept."

Nothing to read? Nothing to read? Why, how wonderfully interesting this big Book can become if one but searches out the romance, the tragedy, the comedy, and the wonderfully curious things it contains.

MOVIE STARS
BY DOROTHY DOUGLAS

There was a brilliant smile playing about Myra's lips as she turned away from the telephone. It was a smile famous throughout many lands for Myra was one of those stars that twinkled the length and breadth of filmland.

At the other end of the wire, young Lord Gerald Rollins turned away with a heavy sigh. He had spoken the words that would permit an entire movie company to encamp in his wonderful ancestral home during the entire summer months. Lord Gerald had been badly done during the war and money was scarce in his tweed pockets. He thrust his hands, that now seemed so utterly incapable, deep into those empty pockets and hoped the young movie manager and star with whom he had finished speaking might prove not to be a miser. They were paying him a tremendous sum for the use of his ancestral home and the run of the entire estate so Lord Gerald felt somewhat reconciled to the tragedy of having to rent out, as it were, his home to a moving picture company.

England had never looked more beautiful nor the gardens of Hill Hall more enchanting when the large company, bag and baggage, drew up under the vast gates and brought huge touring cars to a stop.

Lord Gerald was out on the porch to watch the arrival. It was all so new to him that he felt himself taking a huge interest in the proceedings. Also, being a man and not in any way blind to feminine beauty, he discovered straightaway that at least three of the company were most alluring as to appearance.

Then, out of a great black touring car stepped Myra. Lord Gerald caught a swift breath. The little American movie star was exquisite to a degree quite disconcerting. She came up to him with frankly curious eyes.

"You are Lord Rollins, aren't you?" she questioned, while her wide, intelligent eyes appraised and passed splendid judgment on him. "We are so glad to get here and are all weary—every one of us," including her entire company in a glance; "but your estate is wonderful—quite beyond my meager power of expression."

"You will all appreciate a cup of tea?" Lord Gerald suggested, and led the way into the great hall, with its fine collection of rare old paintings; "then Perkins will show you to your rooms."

Myra was glowing over the magnificent interiors that would soon grace her pictures and more than the interiors was she admiring the well-polished, manly figure of her host.

"Lord Rollins," she said, with characteristic frankness, "if I could find a leading man like you for my movie I would pay him a thousand dollars a week. You are the living image of the lover in my story—at least the very type I want."

Lord Rollins was so completely taken aback that the dull color mounted to his brown hair.

It was Myra's whole-hearted laugh that gave him back his poise. The glance from her merry eyes added the finishing touch.

He scarcely recognized his own voice nor his own sudden leap into a world hitherto unknown to traditional grooves.

"Topping salary! I say, Miss Dawson, would I be an awful dub at acting?"

"Lord Rollins!" cried Myra swiftly, "if you would consent to act with me in a series of five pictures, and perhaps more, I will make the salary three thousand a week. I shall want to advertise," she added. "Your name will be worth as much as your manner," she finished with her first touch of shyness.

"The die is cast," laughed Lord Rollins boyishly, and put out a too white hand—the war had left him a bit delicate.

The tea car arrived, well laden with thin bread and butter, Devonshire cream and strawberries. The situation straightaway became normal, for every one drifted in from various doorways, furnished for tea.

Lord Rollins never forgot that first tea party, when under his ancestral roof, the entire Myra Dawson film company partook happily and wholesomely of his hospitality.

Myra was constantly on the alert

KILN TO SEASON WOOD INVENTED DURING WAR WHEN RUSHING PLANES
(A True Story of Science)
"What is the matter with these drawers, anyway? Every time I want a neck tie, I nearly break my back trying to pull this one open."
No one knows how much energy has been lost, or how many sweet dispositions soured, by bureau drawers that stick.

This fact does not seem to be closely connected with the airplane industry, but it is. As a rule drawers that stick, like bows that will not shoot, have been made from unseasoned timber.

One of the biggest problems facing the Government in 1917 was how to get good seasoned timber for airplanes. Spruce is about the only kind of wood that can be used satisfactorily in airplane construction. When the Government decided to make airplanes by the tens of thousands, there was not nearly enough spruce cut and dried. Unnumbered mammoth trees were growing on the foggy mountains of Vancouver and Washington, but how to turn these trees into the seasoned timber, necessary for airplanes, was the question.

Any boy who has ever made a bow and arrow knows that the best kind of wood is that which has been seasoned in a dry place in the open air for a year or more.

But airplanes could not wait for spruce to season that way. Lumbermen knew that it was possible to season timber in kilns, but such lumber was likely to shrink or swell, according to the climate. It would not do.

Up in Madison, Wis., Mr. H. D. Tiemann had been working for years in the Forest Service Laboratories, trying to find a way to season wood more quickly and satisfactorily.

Mr. Tiemann came forth with a new idea that would season lumber thoroughly in from eight to fourteen days. It consists of a closed chamber in which the lumber is piled in a certain specified way. The temperature and humidity are regulated according to definite rules. There is no guesswork about it. It brings results.

Lumber seasoned in a Tiemann kiln, is even more satisfactory than lumber seasoned for a year in the open air.

Mr. Tiemann dedicated his invention to public use. Now manufacturers of all kinds, making everything from furniture to airplanes, will benefit by it. (Another Safe Story Tomorrow) for scenes, and the conversation jumped at random from English springtime to America's skyscrapers, but ever and anon Lord Rollins found that his eyes were meeting the pair of brilliant ones belonging to Myra.

"Topping summer this will be," he found himself thinking, and for the first time since a burning shell had flung him face downward on the battlefield Lord Rollins felt the warm blood dancing through his body with the sheer joy of being alive.

He proved neither a wonderful nor yet a too bad movie actor. His movements when under the scrutiny of Myra were a bit stilted, but she was most encouraging and splendidly helpful. Working with her was a pleasure far beyond any Lord Rollins had experienced. The novelty, the excitement and the occasional delightful love scenes abroad, which he acted with Myra all helped to lead him back to the old-time health and strength.

It was during the third reel of their second play, when, as per direction, he was pressing a smoldering kiss on the fair heroine's left cheek, that Lord Rollins spoke not real but real love words.

"I love you, Myra," he said, while the cameramen kept whining: "I have never loved anyone before—you will marry me—dear!"

"I love you, too," Myra told him

STUDY HELPS
A Study Corner at Home
"It's too chilly to sit on the front porch this evening. Let's move in to study."
So in they go. Then, in a minute: "Gee whiz, Dad, how can I study when you read that magazine out loud?"
"Robert Watkins, come here with my pencil and paper. I simply have to have it."
"Where is that old atlas we used to have? I wish I could find it."
There are few homes that do not have paper, pencils, pens, rulers, a few reference books, scissors, paste, a waste basket, a table and a light with a good shade. But the trouble is, such things are scattered everywhere in four, five, six, seven, or a dozen rooms.

Go through the house and gather up all such things that you need for your evening study. Bring them all together into one comfortable corner, a "Home Study Corner."

Then make a habit of studying in that one place. After you have done it a while, you get used to it. It is easier to study there than anywhere else, even though someone may be talking across the room.

Soon a study corner helps to form a study habit. Better results, learned more quickly, is the result.

Tired of Sitting
A young lady entered a crowded car with a pair of skates slung over her arm. An elderly gentleman arose to give her his seat.

"Thank you very much, sir," she said. "But I've been skating all afternoon and I'm tired of sitting down."

softer, and her cheek turned more closely to the hero's, "but I cannot be the wife of an English lord. I am of very common birth, dear. My people worked for a living."

The entire company seemed suddenly to have drifted in and taken up front row positions as if awaiting romance, spoiled with a large R.

"Dear heart," the young lord continued, unconscious of the interest of the audience, "you are talking utter nonsense—I love you, love you!"

The crowd of players waited breathlessly.

Myra turned then and looked tenderly into Lord Rollins' pleading eyes. "We will continue our partnership, then, dear," she made answer.

The camera men stopped in the nick of time. The final love kiss was not nearly due in the reel, but apparently this one was.

It was perhaps the most notable wedding in filmland, and assuredly one of the happiest.

OFFICE BOY DEVELOPS INTO EXPERT SALESMAN OF CITY REAL ESTATE
(True Story of a Real Boy)
"Selling can-openers or taking soap orders may be all right, but not for me," says Arnold Flory of Fort Worth, Texas.
Early in the summer, Arnold, who is 14 years old, secured a position helping in a local real estate office. One day, when there happened to be more customers than the regular salesman could take care of, the manager let Arnold take a man out and show him a house.
Arnold did it so well that he sold the house. Naturally, they gave him the same chance again. During the summer, he sold four pieces of real estate, making a commission of $560.00.

When she got home her father examined the picture carefully and decided it was time that she go to the studio with him and be taught the principles of painting.
Rosa Bonheur devoted her whole life to painting. She became famous through her animal pictures, one of which is the well known "Horse Fair."

DELCO LIGHT DAY TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Tomorrow will be Delco Light day at the Interstate fair and it is expected that all Delco Light users in La Crosse county will attend the fair in a body.

The parade will form on the plank road between North and South La Crosse at 10:00 o'clock and will proceed through the south side to the fair, where a picture will be taken of the group.

URGES DUTCH LEGATION MAINTAINED AT VATICAN

THE HAGUE, Sept. 22.—Proposals that Holland maintain a legation at the vatican were made by Jonkheer Van Karnebeek, foreign minister, in presenting estimates of his department before parliament today. He said the reasons which led to the establishment of a temporary mission in Rome in 1919 were no longer applicable, now that peace has been restored. Abolition of Dutch representation at the Holy See would, he declared, be undesirable in the nation's interest because the vatican is becoming a more important center for diplomatic communications and information.

CROP REPORT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 22.—

Synopsis of weather and crop conditions in Wisconsin for the week ending Tuesday, September 21:

The weather of the week was generally favorable for farming operations, but rain is still badly needed over the greater part of the state for pastures, corn, potatoes, seedlings of winter grains, and for plowing. The harvesting of late potatoes has begun.

Only fair yields are reported from most localities. Corn is ripening rapidly and much of it has been cut. Silo filling and threshing are nearing completion in most sections. The third crop of alfalfa is being cut; light yield. The tobacco and the cranberry harvests are well advanced, and both yields and quality are good to excellent.

Sugar beets, truck, vegetables, apples and plums are good. Sugar cane is ripe and is being stripped. Over the greater part of the state outstanding crops will be out of danger from frost by the close of September.

ADDITIONAL PLANTS OCCUPIED BY METAL WORKERS IN ITALY

Labor Refuses to Live Up to Agreement With the Employers to Evacuate

ROME, Sept. 21.—Italian metal workers who occupied factories last month, are refusing to evacuate the plants in accordance with the settlement reached with the employers after government intervention, according to dispatches. In Turin, says a message, three additional works were occupied today.

In fifty other works in Turin, the dispatch states, the majority of the men decided not to abandon the plants unless they received ample guarantees against reprisals from the masters and the government. They are

SINN FEIN OFFICER SHOT BY UNKNOWN MEN IN UNIFORM

Mystery Surrounds Killing of Councillor Lynch in Dublin Hotel Today

MAGSWEENEY ON FORTY-FIRST DAY OF HIS HUNGER STRIKE

Has Good Night But Later Bulletin Reports Set-back

DUBLIN, Sept. 22.—County Councillor Lynch, a prominent Sinn Féin leader, was shot dead this morning in his hotel apartment in the center of Dublin. His assailants are alleged to have been black and tan police.

The murder took place at 3 o'clock this morning, according to the press association's account, when uniformed men entered the hotel, the Royal Exchange hotel, and going straight to the room of their intended victim shot him dead.

Various versions of the affair have it surrounded with mystery. It appears that at 3 o'clock the hotel porter admitted a dozen men who said they belonged to the military. They searched the register, and then, rushed upstairs.

After five minutes all the men left, the porter believing it to be one of the usual raids for arms.

Fifteen minutes later the police arrived, stating they had been instructed to take charge of the body in Room 6, which proved to be that of John Lynch, of Kilmallock, a member of the Sinn Féin county council, an alleged judge of a Sinn Féin court.

The police today were guarding the room, while the street nearby was full of excited crowds and a detachment of the military was parading outside the hotel.

MacSweeney Has Setback

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Terence MacSweeney, lord mayor of Cork, today began the 41st day of his hunger strike at Brixton prison, there being no change from his condition yesterday, according to the physician of Brixton prison.

No reference was made in the prisoner either accepting or refusing nourishment.

The morning bulletin issued by the Irish-Self-Determination league said the lord mayor slept well and that he was somewhat refreshed this morning. The condition of prostration which lasted throughout yesterday was said to have been somewhat relieved.

The league's mid-day bulletin, however, said:

"The lord mayor's condition has suffered a setback. His sister Mary, who has just visited him, says he is very weak, almost as prostrate as he was yesterday."

BLAINE MAKES HOT FIGHT FOR FENNIMORE MAN

Laws of 1919, known as the prohibition enforcement act (Mulberger bill) be continued in force and effect and made to conform with federal provision, to the end that Wisconsin fines may reimburse Wisconsin tax payers for the obligations imposed upon them by the federal government; and to the further end that those accused of violation of excise laws may have such speedy trial at such distance from their homes as will entail neither undue hardship nor expense. We therefore urge that the Mulberger law be ratified at the polls.

"The last legislature enacted a marketing law, the first law of its kind enacted in the United States. In passing such a law we were breaking new ground and could not anticipate all the difficulties involved in perfecting a marketing system.

"A year's experience under such law demonstrated that it does not contain the broad and necessary powers to make effective a desirable marketing system. On account of lack of sufficient funds and authority to ascertain the cost of production of farm products and production of other commodities, the marketing director has been unable to proceed with either a 'thorough' or complete investigation.

Urge Financial Support

"We pledge adequate financial support to the division of markets and such additional power and authority as may be necessary in order to give the division ample power and authority to stimulate co-operation among the producers and to prohibit unfair dealing and discrimination and to prevent extortionate profits on the necessities of life and curb profiteering, so that the producers on the farms may receive a reasonable compensation for farm products and labor, at a reasonable cost to the consumer.

"We favor a revision of the co-operative law to protect existing and future co-operative associations from exploitation and unfair practices and also for the creation of co-operative associations upon a non-stock basis, thus extending to co-operative organizations the same privileges as are extended to trade corporations.

"To prevent the spoiling of perishable food products, the law should limit the time during which they may be held in storage.

"The attorney general should be empowered to bring prosecutions on his own initiative to punish violations of laws to prevent and punish profiteering.

Favor Land Settlement

"We favor laws to promote the development by actual settlers of Wisconsin agricultural lands.

"The basic eight hour law should be adopted in all industries when reasonably applicable with the return of normal conditions, in order that the welfare of our citizens may be promoted by giving such citizens

PRACTICE CALLED FOR S&H GRIDERS

With new men reporting for practice every day, the formation of the S&H football team is coming along in good shape. Schedules for games are being arranged and it is expected that within a few days a number of good teams will be signed up for a clash with the clear store squad. Practice will be held at the twelfth and Jackson street grounds tonight and it is hoped that a large number will turn out.

Time for something more than eating, sleeping and working.

"We favor the elimination of child labor in industry and equal pay for equal service, regardless of sex; the right of workers to organize and to deal collectively with employers through representatives of their own choice.

"We favor better protection to all railroad workers who are engaged in car repair at terminals and junctions against inclement and severe weather. We favor the revision and passage of laws to more adequately protect the trainmen and the traveling public against the dangers at railroad grade crossings.

"We favor an increase in payments under the workmen's compensation act for the more serious and disabling injuries and death benefits in order to more nearly meet the increased cost of living.

Would Raise Exemption

"Since the income tax law was enacted the cost of living has more than doubled, and we therefore favor that exemptions from income taxes shall be increased in proportion to the increase in the cost of living, building and lease from localities of improvements to encourage development of the agricultural area of northern Wisconsin and to promote home ownership.

"We favor a progressive increase in home ownership, a progressive increase in the establishment of a ratio between the rate of taxation on property and the rate of taxation on income, so that as property improvements increase the entire cost of such improvements will not be levied on property alone.

"We favor that the ability to pay, and should be raised upon a just and equitable basis as between the property tax and the income tax.

Yearly Report Demanded

"This does not contemplate an increase in the total tax, but justice demands a readjustment of our taxation systems.

"We further favor a law requiring all corporations licensed to do business in Wisconsin to file annual statements with the secretary of state, showing the financial condition, profits and dividends during the year.

"The state should set an example in economy, and while no necessary state income tax so that a rigid economy should be practiced.

"Our schools should be improved and adequately supported, especially the common schools. Extravagance in the administration of education institutions should be limited by the limitation of the Nonpartisan league to a parsimonious policy. Evening and continuation schools wherein persons unfamiliar with the language and institutions of America may receive instruction, should be provided and supported in proportion to the need that exists for them.

Rap Nonpartisan League

"We favor the amendment of the corrupt practices act to require all leagues, committees, clubs and individuals to report all receipts and disbursements for political purposes in the same manner as the persons whose expense accounts of candidates are now required.

"The acceptance of funds and the disbursements of funds from sources outside the state for political purposes to influence political action in Wisconsin elections should be prohibited. We denounce the leadership of the Nonpartisan league, the I. W. W., the communist party and all other agencies seeking to undermine the principles of democracy and advocating a program of state socialism, bolshevism or anarchy. We denounce the attempt of nonresidents of Wisconsin through the leadership of the Nonpartisan league to control the republican party in Wisconsin.

"We favor the construction and maintenance of the public highways of the state so that adequate roads may be in reach of all the people. We believe in the development of routes of through travel, and also the construction and maintenance of the farmers' roads to market, the feeders of these main through highways. Wisconsin's present policy of highway construction and maintenance has attracted nationwide attention, and we pledge our party to every step to secure not only a continuation but every possible advance in the state's highway program. We want good roads everywhere for every one, so far as and so fast as this program can be pursued consistent with sound economic policy and reasonable taxation."

TEACHERS CHANGE PROGRAM

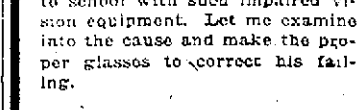

It was announced today that the program of the Teachers' club vaudeville show at the fair will be changed each day.

U. S. MILITARISM IS DENOUNCED BY JAPANESE SPEAKER

Representative Addresses Public Meeting on Subject of "American-Japanese War"

GOVERNMENT TO PUSH RACE EQUALITY IN THE LEAGUE

Will Also Continue Negotiations on Anti-Jap Legislation in U. S.

TOKIO, Sept. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Japanese government, as a result of yesterday's meeting of the cabinet, will vigorously pursue the negotiations concerning American anti-Japanese legislation, and will push firmly the question of racial equality in the league of nations conference, according to the Hochi Shimbun today.

At a public meeting in the Y. M. C. A. hall here today Representative Kodama spoke on the subject, "An American-Japanese War." He denounced American militarism, saying that as long as a threatening nation existed beyond the Pacific, Japanese naval expansion cannot be dispensed with.

The Hochi Shimbun says it thinks the negotiations with the United States hinge on whether the so-called "Gentlemen's agreement," should be revised and a formal treaty drawn up.

The Hochi Shimbun understands also that Japan will insist upon maintenance of her rights in the South Sea Islands, for which she received the mandate at the peace conference.

Although Great Britain and the United States may oppose racial equality, according to the newspaper Japan will insist by all possible means upon its acceptance by the league of nations.

In his address to the provincial governors yesterday, Premier Hara said the situation of the world never was more strained than at present. Japan has decided to withdraw her troops from Siberia, except from those places where consideration of the empire's defense rendered the stationing of troops imperative, Premier Hara said.

Concerning Shantung, the premier asserted Japan still was ready to negotiate with China, who refused to consider Japan's proposals.

3 SOCIALISTS IN NEW YORK STATE AGAIN UNSEATED

seated. Assemblyman McCue made a motion to reconsider the vote by which Waldman had been expelled, he declared. "Partisan politics has entered this case now. If there is any reason why Orr and De Witt should be allowed to retain their seats there is just as much why the other three should stay, also."

With the announcement that the McCue motion had been defeated, Assemblymen Orr and De Witt resigned. After the assembly adjourned the socialist delegation issued a statement which declared the action of the assembly was a "brazen disregard of constitutional safeguards of the liberties of the people."

Hughes Condemns Action

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—While socialist leaders were conferring today on the next step to obtain representation of the party in the New York assembly, Charles E. Hughes, head of the bar association committee which opposed the ouster of the socialist delegation last winter, issued a statement condemning the second unseating.

"The ouster of the socialist members of the assembly is an act of incredible folly and is in flagrant disregard of the fundamental principles of American institutions," said Mr. Hughes. "I am opposed to socialism and it is because I wish to see our institutions preserved that I think this action, which is of the essence of socialism, should be denounced."

"It is the more flagrant because these members of the assembly had been re-elected in accordance with our laws and at a fair election, and because, so far as provisions of the constitution of the socialist party gave any pretext for the previous ouster, these had been removed."

"The statement of Assemblyman Martin, chairman of the judiciary committee, puts the matter clearly. He says:

No Right to Exclude Members

"There was no charge against any of them personally as individuals. No personal guilt was charged against them. Since then their organization has complied with our constitution and our laws. We have no right to exclude them."

"So far as republicans voted to oust the socialist members, they acted in direct violation of their party platform. It is fatuous to suppose that procedure of this sort is a protection against socialism. It has just the opposite effect. The one consoling feature of the matter is that we may be assured that this ouster does not reflect the sentiment of the people of the state, but is merely the action of a few exercising a temporary power which has been sadly abused."

DEMOCRAT CHAIRMAN HITS AT PERSONNEL OF G. O. P. COMMITTEE

Says Sparks Will Fly if all of Forty Advisors Should Meet Under One Roof

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—In a formal statement today George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, said he would take steps to familiarize the voters with the names of the newly appointed advisory committee of forty announced last night by Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee. "To prove that the great party of the union is indeed a unit," said Mr. White, "Mr. Hays has appointed an advisory committee of forty. Whether this advisory committee is to assemble for a conference with the republican national chairman is not stated, but I greatly fear that sparks will fly if these men and women gather under one roof, even in the mollifying presence of Mr. Hays."

"At any rate, place cards will have to be prepared carefully in advance. Joe Dixon who organized the republican vote of 1912 should be at another end of the council table to Judge Taft. One word might lead to another between Major Knox and Senator Poinsett over the late convention contest at Chicago. Oscar Straus and Herbert Hoover should sit apart from Mr. Beveridge lest the league of nations be mentioned. Charles E. Hughes should not be compelled to gaze upon Representative Nolan of 1916 California days and the personnel of the committee would be full of unkind memories for Gov. Lowden of Illinois."

"Of course one fortunate thing is that Colonel William Cooper Proctor of the committee could easily pay its bills—he is used to that."

Landlords Beware

The kind-hearted minister was expostulating with the landlord who had raised the poor parishioner's rent about three hundred and thirteen per cent.

"If I want to hear you preach," said the landlord angrily, "I'll come to church, where you should do your preaching and listen to you there."

"If you were where you should be," was the dignified reply, "you would have that opportunity next Sunday. I am to preach at the state's prison."—Life.

LEGION COMMANDER IN CLEVELAND TO ARRANGE MEETING

Former Service Men's Convention to be Held During Latter Part of Month

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the American Legion, took charge of arrangements and activities in connection with the second annual convention of the legion here on September 27, 28 and 29.

Mr. D'Olier has just completed a four months' trip of the country. "At least eighty per cent of the legion members favor the four-fold bonus compensation act," Mr. D'Olier said. "Members in only two states I visited opposed it."

"There is among legion men throughout the country a wonderful spirit of tolerance and reasonableness, a desire for fair play and for national progress without going to extremes either of radicalism or reaction."

"After this convention the American Legion will be understood more clearly than ever before as a real factor in American affairs. The legion today is an insurance policy for the nation."

CLEVELAND MAN NAMED TO FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—D. C. Wills of Cleveland, Ohio, was appointed a member of the federal reserve board today by President Wilson. Mr. Wills formerly was chairman of the board of directors of the federal reserve bank at Cleveland.

Refused

A Dutch pastor makes it a point to welcome any strangers cordially, and one evening after the completion of the service he hurried down the aisle to station himself at the door.

A Swedish girl was one of the strangers in the congregation. She is employed as a domestic in one of the fashionable homes, and the minister, noting that she was a stranger, stretched out his hand.

He welcomed her to the church and expressed a hope that she would be a regular attendant. Finally he said if she would be at home some evening during the week he would call.

"Thank you," she murmured bashfully, "but I have a fella."—Chicago Examiner.

TWO MILLION FUND ENOUGH FOR DEMS GERARD TESTIFIES

Not Limiting Amount of Contributions from Single Individuals

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—While the democratic national finance committee is not limiting the size of campaign contributions from a single individual, a $2,000,000 total would be sufficient for the democratic national campaign, James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and chairman of the committee, testified today before the senate campaign investigating committee.

"Are you limiting the amount of funds you will take from a single individual?" asked Chairman Keenan.

"No."

"Would you take $15,000,000 if you got it?"

"No, that would be too large. $2,000,000 would shock the public conscience and insure the defeat of the party."

Brunswick Principles In Fine Tire Making

The reason you are interested in the name on your tire is that it identifies the maker. By knowing the maker you can judge his ideals of manufacture.

The only secret of a super-tire lies in the principles of the maker. His standards decide the quality. For there are 30 secrets in the tire industry.

What you get depends on what is behind the name on your tire. Brunswick, as you know, means a very old concern, jealous of its good name. Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has been famous the world over for the quality of its products.

The Brunswick Tire is all that you expect—and more. Your first one will be a revelation. You'll agree that you've never known a better. And you'll tell your friends. So spread the news among motorists. The Brunswick is the most welcome tire that ever came to market.

U. S. WORK IN HAITI
NEAR TO COMPLETION
DECLARES DANIELS

Will Withdraw Troops as Soon as Purpose of Occupation is Achieved

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The United States hopes to bring its occupation of Haiti to an end as soon as the "benevolent purposes" for which this government intervened have been achieved, Secretary Colby declared in a statement, defending the administration's Haitian policy, recently attacked by Senator Harding, republican presidential nominee. The work undertaken in Haiti under treaty agreements with the native government, the secretary added, already is "nearing completion".

Asserting that as a result of American occupation Haitian revenues were "greatly improved," and there had been notable progress in road construction and other development, Secretary Colby declared that "with the exception of a few centers of selfish and interested agitation, credit and gratitude are freely expressed to this government from every quarter in Haiti." The course of this country in Haiti, the secretary added, "has been moderate and dictated only by the desire to meet its duties, and not in any degree to go beyond them.

Had less been done, the country would have been guilty of a dereliction of duty and might have been exposed to sound criticism."

Don't You Get Tired of Grinding Valves?

OF what value is a motor that is forever
in the repair shop? forever accumulating carbon? forever developing engine trouble? forever an invalid in need of a doctor?

The Willys-Knight motor, with its sleeve valve principle, has no valves to grind, and long use serves only to seal up its compres-sion and re-vitalize its power.

The life of an ordinary motor is simply a period of intermittent convalescence. The life of a Willys-Knight is one long unbroken span of robust, reinvigorated performance.

When the average car is recuperating in the repair shop, the Willys-Knight still carries on!

It is the nearest thing to perpetual motion

In the Engineers' Laboratory at the Delco-Light factory, a

HURRICANE ON GULF PASSES TO WEST OF MISSISSIPPI RIVER

Storm Central Over Northern Louisiana Today With Intensity Diminishing

STORM WARNINGS ORDERED
DOWN BY FEDERAL BUREAU

No Loss to Gulf Shipping Has Been Reported

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The center of the tropical hurricane passed inland west of the Mississippi river last night and is over northern Louisisiana, the weather bureau announced today. The bureau said the storm would diminish in intensity. Warnings on the Gulf coast were ordered down at 9:30 a. m.

Force of Wind Broken

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 22.—
The tropical storm reported to be sweeping slowly toward the Gulf coast had not struck the mainland in this vicinity early today. Weather bureau indications were that the greatest force of the hurricane would be felt on the coast east of the Mississippi river, probably during the day.

The barometer was rising steadily and the wind which reached a maximum velocity here of 48 miles an hour had dropped to eighteen miles an hour. This favorable turn led to belief that the disturbance might have dissipated itself.

No loss to shipping has been reported. Traffic on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was at a standstill, one bridge having been washed out while the tracks were reported under water at several points.

Trees were uprooted, windows were broken and signs were blown down by the wind here. One man was killed by a falling power wire. Considerable damage from high winds and tides was reported from coast points east of here, the wind at Bay St. Louis and Chef Menteur having been estimated at sixty miles an hour during the night. In some localities waves were out of commission.

Public Debate

HE LIKES THAT BAND

Editor, Tribune and Leader-Press.
Dear Sir: There is a musical organization within our midst which has attracted favorable attention from the four corners of this state. I allude to the Elks' band of this city.
Comparatively few people here know anything of the history of this organization, which has been quietly whipped into a regular marching and playing band by the efforts of the present director, Mr. F. E. Guenther.
Too much praise cannot be given to a man who was able to create the class and distinction in a musical way, such as this band is now capable of.

There is no question of a doubt,
but what it was a mighty hard journey, from a little handful of men, (some professional musicians, others still in the non-pro class) up to the well drilled and finished musical organization such as they now are.
If some of the old home guard could have been in Milwaukee during the Elks' big meet the early part of this month, and could have been standing

Miss Nilsson's Beauty Secrets

Anna Q. Nilsson, the wonderful motion picture actress, who is writing a series of articles on beauty secrets soon to appear in this paper, says that a beautiful rosy-white skin and complexion is the very best asset any girl or woman can have. She further states that the best and quickest way to obtain this is to use a simple toilet preparation, familiar to every well known actress. It is called derwilla and can be obtained at the toilet counter of any up-to-date drug or department store. This wonderful derwilla is used by over five hundred thousand discriminating girls and women throughout the country and is rapidly becoming a regular fact. It takes the place of face powder, stays on better and its use cannot be detected. Perspiration does not affect it and it will not rub off on clothing. Derwilla is especially recommended for dark, sallow, rough skin, freckles, tan, wrinkles and many other facial blemishes. Be sure to read Miss Nilsson's next article. In the meantime get derwilla and try it today, you are sure to be delighted.

ners on the line of march, which was about two and one-half miles in length. I am sure that they would be entirely won over to the thought that La Crosse must never again be without a band. Not since the days of Dana had so smart a musical outfit ever represented this city, and it was very gratifying to those of us who were fortunate enough to be in Milwaukee at that time to hear the people cheer, and see them wave their hats as the La Crosse boys followed by the men who had helped make the trip a possibility, swung into view.

It was strange indeed to hear the thousands of people who crowded the entire line of march, take up the cheer and hand clapping, as (La Crosse) for the first time in her history, represented by her own band, dressed in uniforms which were second to none, arrayed as it were, against the very finest bands the state of Wisconsin has produced—just simply knocking them all dead, as a Milwaukee man remarked in the Plankinton hotel after the parade.

There were thirty-six men in uniform and the lines stretched nearly from curb to curb. I followed that old band all through the business section, just as I had followed bands when a boy, and every one I bumped into, I just told them I was from La Crosse. You see I was very proud that I could say that. The Chicago delegation about twelve hundred strong, with a big band of about forty-five or fifty pieces fell out on the line of march, and gave La Crosse a rousing cheer as they came marching past. I heard Chicago people in the lobby of the Wisconsin hotel asking one another where La Crosse was located, that it must be some regular city to support a band like that. I got so excited that I tried to butt in and tell people what little I knew about the band, and tell them that the leader had once played in the same band with Arthur Pryor, that there were two well known orchestra leaders in it, namely Wetche and Holcomb —that one of our baritone players who once played a six weeks' tour with Arthur Pryor, and the other baritone had played with the Third regiment band under Dana. A man named Moose, at least that is what they called him, he played clarinet or something, and about the redoubtable "Tubby" Keeler, who was once a good football player. Then after catching my breath I told them how the people of La Crosse were surely proud of their band, and how they intended to support them every minute until they got fifty members in the band, and then they were going to double their support just to show their appreciation. Some one who is a member of the band told me that they were going to try and make them by giving concerts at enough money during the winter to take them to the big national convention next year. He said that they were going to make the prices popular, something like fifty and twenty-five cents and I suggested that they try and get the theater for Sunday afternoon and evening. It has been so difficult for the theater company to get any classy vodvil here for Sunday they ought to jump at the chance to satisfy their patrons with some first class concerts.

As I understand it they want the folks in La Crosse to feel a sort of ownership in the band, and they want to have enough money to buy some new instruments with and little things that a band needs.

We can't ask the Elks to carry any more of the burden, as I understand they have already spent over fourteen hundred dollars to equip the band, and will still purchase the necessary uniforms to get the band membership up to fifty, after which I understand the band will have to mostly fight its own battles. I am writing this letter in hopes that there are other citizens in La Crosse, not members of the Elks, who would like to see this band supported during the winter months, and when I say supported, I mean to pack that old theater until the ushers have to stand out on the front steps.
Can we do it? Well I guess we can!

Say Mr. Elks, do you know we are so blooming hungry for a good live band concert that we could just fall on your hairy neck, hang onto your horns and weep for sheer joy.

You could tell from the picture in Sunday's paper who the boys were that got behind that Milwaukee drive, when I saw John Salzer and his brother, wee Frank Burgess, Charles Collins and Jimmie Hodge. I just said: "Well, it's no wonder the band went to Milwaukee." I think Bill Hartgen was mixed up in the movement too.

Won't you please let the rest of us folks help just our little mite. You fellows have done enough for the present.
Come on with your old concerts and don't just talk about it. We want music.

BERT BALL COMING TO GIVE TALK AT CHAMBER DINNER

Real Treat Promised Tomorrow Night and Large Attendance is Assured

The interest that members of the Chamber of Commerce feel in their organization at the present time is illustrated by the fact that the largest number of acceptance cards ever received for a general dinner have come in on the first day after the cards were mailed. It is very evident that the word has gone around that Bert Ball is well worth hearing. Those who attend the dinner tomorrow evening are going to have a real treat.

Hugh Marshall, a La Crosse boy who has become famous on the Chautauque circuit, will be another guest, and those who have heard him sing recently, understand why the audiences of the tent lyceums all over the northwest have been enjoying him all summer.

The ladies will be welcome at this dinner. Undoubtedly some of the exhibitors at the Interstate fair will avail themselves of invitations from members to be present and hear Mr. Ball, and will bring their wives and daughters. The Chamber of Commerce has several dozen women members and is greatly pleased when they find it possible to attend general membership or bureau meetings. The participation of women in the work of the Chamber is expected to be greater than ever before in view of the fact that they are now officially on an equality of citizenship with their brethren.

Those who get-togethers of the entire chamber have always been called "Membership Dinners" and some people have the impression that they refer to securing members. The matter of joining the organization or anything connected with membership is never mentioned; these monthly dinners are merely for better acquaintance and good fellowship. The usual palatable menu has been arranged and one of the best times ever experienced by the membership is anticipated. A good appetite, a spirit of good fellowship and a disposition to join in the songs will make this a happy start for a banner year.

HINDENBERG, WEARING WILHELM'S CROSSES, AND SON AT HORSE SHOW

BERLIN.—Former Field Marshal von Hindenburg doesn't care whether there's an army or not—he still wears the uniform of the imperial forces and, furthermore, the mere fact that the Kaiser isn't a Kaiser any more doesn't prevent Von from wearing the pretty iron crosses and things Wilhelm gave him. This is the first picture ever taken of von Hindenburg and his son, Captain Hindenburg, together, and was made at a horse show in a German town.

GOVERNOR COX HAS HIGH PRAISE FOR SPIRIT OF THE WEST

Expresses Admiration for People of West Through Columns of Los Angeles Paper

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 22.—Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate, who left California last night for Phoenix, Ariz., spoke to the west through the Los Angeles Times, republican newspaper.

He asked the Times to publish the following statement:

"The nation must look to the west for its food increase. You have got the acres and there is much larger opportunity for the development of that acreage in the west than in the east."

"I like your western spirit. Your people are eager, they are progressive, they respond more quickly to the spoken word."

"I believe the Almighty realized that the task of reclaiming this western country required a great people, for you people are doing that great work with a wonderful spirit."

Governor Cox's program for today called for a number of speeches, as does that for tomorrow which will see him on the way to New Mexico, with plans completed for visits to Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

FORMAL RESIGNATION OF FRENCH PRESIDENT READ TO PARLIAMENT

Ill Health Makes Necessary Retirement of Deschanel from Presidency

PARIS, Sept. 22.—By the Associated Press.—The resignation of Paul Deschanel, as president of France, which he handed to Premier Millerand at Rambouillet last week, was read simultaneously in the senate and chamber of deputies when those bodies reconvened Tuesday.

"My state of health," wrote M. Deschanel in his letter, "no longer permits me to assume the high functions with which your confidence invested me upon the occasion of the session of the national assembly on January 17 last."

"The absolute obligation imposed upon me to take a complete rest makes it my duty to no longer delay announcing to you the decision I have been compelled to report. It is infinitely painful, and it is with profound heart pang that I renounce the noble post of which you deemed me worthy."

"ABANDON ME A SUIT"

An Oxford-st. store received a letter from Fred Scolden, Vienna, which read in part: "Suits here cost so much that I beg you if one of your clerks will abandon me a suit not quite new. CREW OF SHAMROCK RESENTS ASPERSIONS OF SHIP DESIGNER

Nicholson Lays Victory of Resolute to Superior Seaman-ship of Crew

SHAMROCK SAILORS BLAME INTERFERENCE OF DESIGNER

Case of too Many Cooks Says Member of Crew

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. --When Mr. Nicholson, the designer of Shamrock IV, arrived in England, he placed the superior seamanship of the Resolute's captain and crew among the reasons for the challenger's failure to lift the America's cup.

Members of the Shamrock's crew who have returned to England, resent the slur which they consider Mr. Nicholson has thrown upon their efficiency as yachtsmen and declare that the Shamrock's faulty handling was largely due to the interference of Mr. Nicholson.

Arthur Diaper, one of the crew, said in an interview with The Associated Press correspondent, it was a case of too many cooks and he pointed to the fact that on the only occasion Captain Burton was free from interruption and advice the Shamrock won. Diaper said all of the crew felt convinced that had a professional skipper been in full command Shamrock would have won the first three races. He claimed that she could point as close into the wind as the Resolute, but the latter was superior in reaching.

He declared that Shamrock was very awkward to handle, and her canvas was about three times as heavy as that of the Resolute. The hullsides were arranged in such a manner that the work of the men was made extremely difficult. What could be done by ten men on the 23-meter Shamrock required 30 to do on Shamrock IV. On one occasion in setting the mainsail they had 36 men on the hullsides and could not move the sail.

"In fact," said Diaper, "I have never before seen such heavy canvas on a racing yacht." And then, on the return of the yacht to City Island, after the races, they found a complete set of light racing canvas for

CLEVELAND MECCA FOR SERVICE MEN LATE IN MONTH

Thirty Thousand Veterans Expected to Attend Second Annual Convention

BONUS QUESTION EXPECTED TO COME UP FOR ACTION

Legion Must Decide Attitude on Bonus Proposition

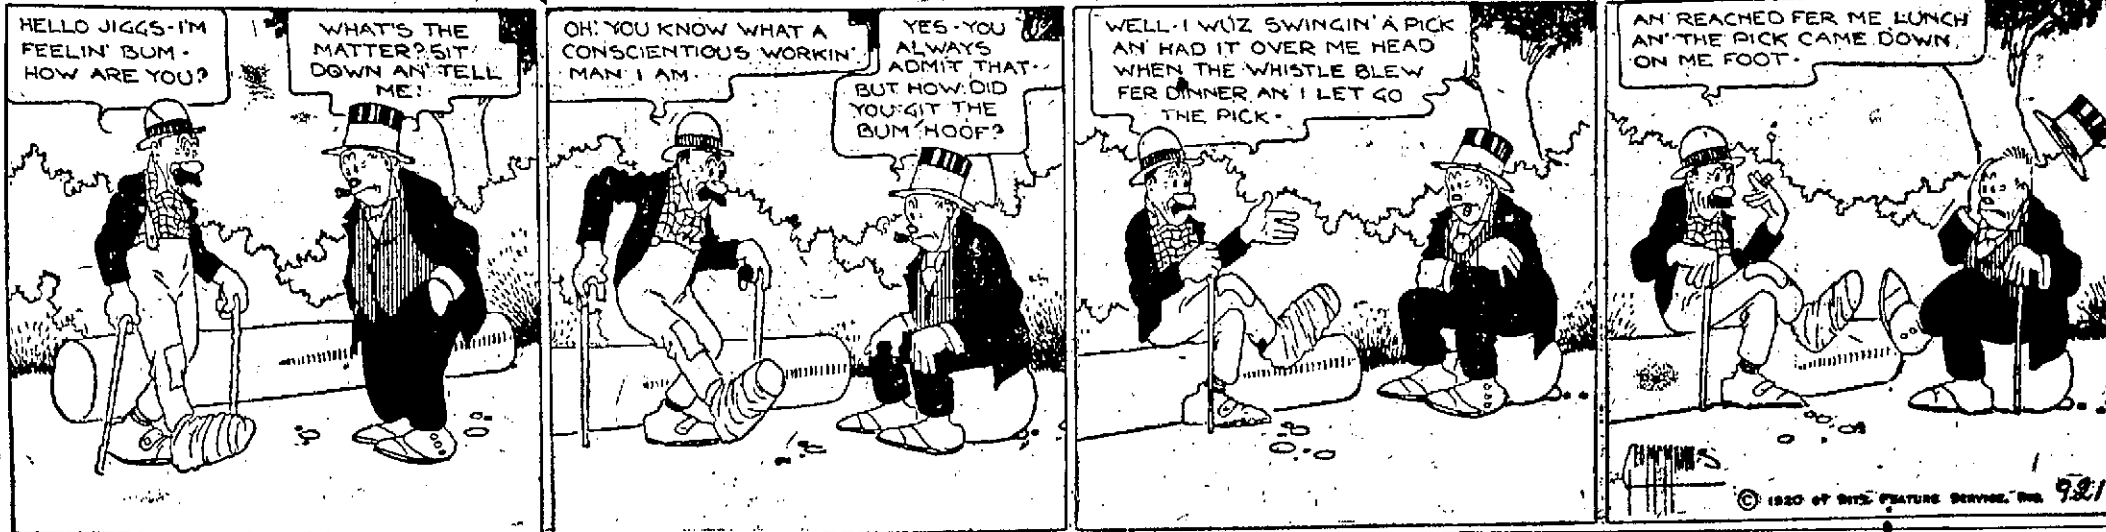

CLEVELAND, O.—Thirty thousand former service men are expected to attend the second annual convention of the American Legion here on September 27, 28 and 29.

The convention, which will take up problems of nation-wide interest, will also provide opportunity for scores of reunions of divisions and smaller units. Visitors will include many distinguished men.

A parade on the opening day is to be one of the features of the gathering. All of the Legionnaires will march. Sixty bands will furnish the music. The size of the parade is expected to furnish memories of the veterans of the time when the French peasants stood at roadides to watch the men of the American Expeditionary Force marching to the front.

There will be big questions to de-

BRINGING UP FATHER

olde. Among the chief of them is that of the attitude of the Legion toward a bonus for the 2,000,000 members of the Legion, and the question of a drive to bring every eligible ex-serviceman within the fold. The aim of such a campaign, leaders state, would be to make the Legion the most powerful, non-partisan, unselfish force in American affairs.

While various state departments of the Legion will submit other resolutions for action by the national body, the following twelve matters are expected to receive the most attention:

An Americanization program, having for its purpose the assimilation of the nation's alien population and aiding immigrants in learning American ideals, history and customs.

The four-fold bonus proposition: (1) land settlement—former service men and women to receive $1.50 for each day of service, to apply on the purchase of land and government projects, or loans for buying equipment; (2) home aid, with $2 for each day of service, to apply on the purchase of a home or farm; (3) vocational training, with $1.50 for each day of service, to be paid within a year after the approval of the bill; (4) cash compensation of $1.50 for each day of service, to be paid as long as the recipients are obtaining education from the government.

More adequate aid and care for wounded American soldiers.

Granting of immediate citizenship to all who served in the army and navy or marine corps.

Revision of the civil service regulations to make it easier for former service men to obtain public employment.

Decision upon a definite military or non-military policy.

Declaration of Armistice Day, November 11, as a national holiday.

Drastic action for those who have proved slackers in the world war.

Opposition to the participation of Legion men, as members of the organization, in labor disputes.

Planning of membership drives to raise the present membership of 2,000,000 to twice that number.

Election of new officers.

Adoption of a "ritual" for initiation.

The Cleveland convention committee, headed by Colonel C. C. Chambers, is busy completing details for the big convention. All hotels have been reserved for delegates and visitors. In addition, Clevelanders are offering to house the visitors, many of them free of charge.

Boxing matches, moving pictures, lake rides, shows, dances and smokers have been arranged to provide entertainment for the veterans. The Philadelphia Legion will come by box cars, reminiscent of the days spent on the French front.

The 37th division and the 82nd division are among those that will hold reunions during the convention. The 37th or Buckeye division reunion will open on the Sunday before the convention, September 26.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

G. O. P. OPPOSITION TO LEAGUE PARTISAN SAYS SENATOR WALSH

Harding's Opinion on League Borrowed Declares Montana Solon

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—In a statement today in reply to the contention of Senator Harding that "there is an irreconcilable conflict between the constitution of the United States and the league of nations covenant," Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, democrat, said that republicans are "attempting to obscure the fact that their opposition to the league is purely partisan in character."

Declaring that Senator Harding's opinion "is borrowed," Senator Walsh said that "to put it forth at this time argues either that he has not followed attentively the debate on the league in the senate or that his memory is short."

"Moved by suggestions made," the statement continued, "the senate directed its committee on judiciary to inquire as to whether there are constitutional objections to the treaty. It reported there are not. The report was not unanimous, but no member of the committee dissented—some members simply withheld their claim that the constitution forbids our government entering into obligations such as the covenant proposes, though three expressed some doubt."

"There was no partisan tinge in the report of the committee. It was concurred in by four republicans. To attempt to resurrect this issue is evidence of the straits in which opponents of the league find themselves in their attempt to obscure the fact that their opposition is purely partisan in character."

AUTOMOBILE SHOW ATTRACTS CROWDS AT FAIR THIS WEEK

Used Car Sale is Big Feature of Annual Exposition at the Interstate Fair

The automobile show at the fair is attracting more attention than usual because of the large number of cars and the wide range of models exhibited.

The used car sale which is being conducted by J. D. McCarthy, is attracting big crowds daily, and attractive bargains are resulting in many sales.

"I have been curious to know just how many persons in La Crosse were using their automobiles solely for pleasure," said Mr. McCarthy. He said it seemed preposterous to him that people should continue referring to passenger cars as "pleasure cars" when the main streets are so choked with automobile traffic during business hours.

"Certainly they do not imagine that all these people driving cars through the noon and evening rush hours in the downtown section are out for joy rides," he said. "Nor can they find one out of a hundred cars anywhere, any time of the day, that are traveling about aimlessly, with no object or destination. In the evening, it is true, hundreds of persons take their cars out for recreational drives, but this is incidental to the car's chief purpose in life. During the day it is in business."

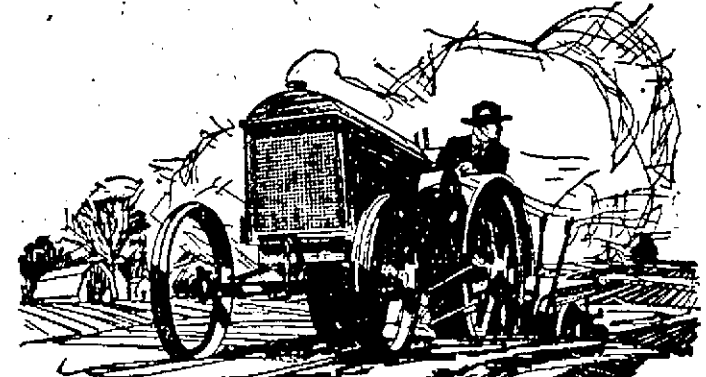

"Even newspaper editors sometimes thoughtlessly write articles about the great sums of money being invested in motor cars, to satisfy the American craving for pleasure. Such editors usually admit on analyzing the conditions that have created the tremendous market for automobiles, that they had the wrong viewpoint, and are glad to state the other side of the question."

Canada buys more from the United States than all countries of South America, Africa, Asia and Oceania combined. Total $800,000,000 a year.
